NGSA and Manufacturing Community Show Commitment to Unite America Post-Election

More Than 1,100 Manufacturing and Business Leaders Sign Letter to President-Elect Pledging Respect and Cooperation

(Washington, D.C.) -- Following the election of President-elect Trump, the Natural Gas Supply Association joined National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) President and CEO Jay Timmons, and more than 1,100 other manufacturing and business leaders from across the United States, in a letter pledging to help bring the country back together after a divisive election.

The letter to President-elect Trump expressed an urgent need to communicate and work productively with the new administration and 115th Congress on key issues in order to reach the full economic potential of our nation.

Signatures for the letter, along with commitments from the business leaders who signed it, were gathered over a period of nearly two weeks, well before the results of the election were known. The effort was initiated by Timmons, Tenneco Inc. Chairman and CEO and NAM Board Chair Gregg Sherrill and Emerson Chairman and CEO and NAM Board Chair-elect David Farr.
