NGSA Statement on Nomination of Norman Bay as FERC Chairman

(Washington, D.C.) -- Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) president and CEO R. Skip Horvath made the following statement on President Obama's nomination of Norman Bay, director of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's Office of Enforcement, to serve as the agency's next chairman

"We look forward to working with Norman Bay should he be confirmed as FERC Chairman. He has a reputation for diligence and thoroughness and is well-versed on how energy markets work. That knowledge will prove helpful as FERC considers how to improve power market rules so that natural gas can better serve power markets."
