NGSA Announces 2017-2018 Chairman and Executive Officers

(Washington, D.C.) -- The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) today announced its chairman and executive officers for 2017-2018. Scott Moore, who is Vice President, Worldwide Marketing for Anadarko Petroleum Corporation, has assumed the association's chairmanship for a two-year term.

"With demand and production of natural gas currently at record levels, I look forward to serving as NGSA's chairman and helping natural gas to fulfill its promise," said Moore. "Natural gas will continue to play a central role in the resurgence of U.S. manufacturing and in enabling the power sector to affordably cut emissions while boosting reliability."

As Vice President of Worldwide Marketing for Anadarko, Moore is responsible for domestic and international marketing of natural gas, natural gas liquids, and oil, as well as commodity price risk management and market fundamentals. He has more than 30 years of experience in marketing, trading, logistics, commodity derivatives, LNG, economics, risk management, commercial litigation, project finance and engineering in the energy industry.

Mr. Moore is chairman of the board of Coloradans for Responsible Energy Development (CRED) and serves on the board of directors of the Denver Metropolitan Chamber of Commerce. He is a board member and past chairman of the Colorado Oil and Gas Association. Mr. Moore served as assistant chair of the coordinating subcommittee for the National Petroleum Council's Prudent Development study for the U.S. Secretary of Energy. Mr. Moore's biography can be downloaded [here.]

NGSA's other 2017-2018 officers are Vice Chairman Orlando Alvarez, who is also President and CEO of BP Energy Marketing and Trading; and Secretary/Treasurer Donald "Blue" Jenkins, who is Executive Vice President, Commercial, EQT Energy. Dena Wiggins continues as president and CEO of NGSA. Election of the 2017-2018 officers took place at the NGSA Board of Directors meeting in December 2016 and became effective at its March 3 board meeting.
