

Dena E. Wiggins
President and CEO

Dena E. Wiggins is President and CEO of the Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA), representing major integrated and independent natural gas producers in the U.S. She joined NGSA in 2014.

As President of NGSA, Wiggins leads the association's efforts to encourage the supply and use of natural gas and promotes the benefits of competitive markets. Following the Center for LNG (CLNG) merger with NGSA, she also steers CLNG.

Wiggins also represent NGSA on the Commodity Futures Trading Commission's Energy and Environmental Markets Advisory Committee, which advises the CFTC on preserving market integrity and competition in energy futures markets, among other issues. She also currently serves on the Board of NAM's Council of Manufacturing Associations as well as the Board of the British-American Business Association. In addition, she serves on the Advisory Council of New Mexico State University's Center for Public Utilities and is a member of the Council Group of the American Bar Association's Infrastructure and Regulated Industries Section.

Previous to NGSA, she was a partner at the firm of Ballard Spahr and served as General Counsel to the Process Gas Consumers Group. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Richmond and a Juris Doctor from Georgetown University Law Center.