Joint NGSA-CLNG Statement on 2016 Election

(Washington, D.C.) – The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) and the Center for LNG released the following statement in advance of today’s election results. Dena Wiggins, president and CEO of NGSA, said:

“Natural gas is a non-partisan fuel and, whether used to heat homes and businesses, to generate electricity, to manufacture goods, for transportation, or exported as LNG, its use benefits consumers, the economy and the environment. These are issues that concern and unite all our citizens. No matter which candidates win today’s presidential and congressional elections, we look forward to working with them in the next Administration and Congress to support a broad non-partisan energy policy that includes a critical role for natural gas.”

The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) represents integrated and independent companies that supply natural gas. It is the only upstream trade association that solely focuses on producer/marketer issues related to the downstream natural gas industry. Established in 1965, NGSA encourages the use of natural gas within a balanced national energy policy, and promotes the benefits of competitive markets, thus encouraging increased supply and the reliable and efficient delivery of natural gas to U.S. customers.

NGSA merged with the Center for Liquefied Natural Gas in 2016. The Center for Liquefied Natural Gas is an organization of LNG producers, shippers, terminal operators and developers and energy trade associations. Its goal is to enhance public education and understanding about LNG by serving as a clearinghouse for LNG information.
