NGSA Statement in Support of the Lower Energy Cost Act (H.R. 1)

(Washington, D.C.) – The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) issued the following statement today in support of legislation to improve the permitting process for energy projects.

Dena Wiggins, President and CEO of NGSA, said:

“We support meaningful infrastructure permitting reform and urge Congress to work together to support solutions like H.R. 1. Modernizing the energy-infrastructure approval process so that natural gas can reach consumers in an affordable, timely, reliable and environmentally-responsible way is essential to meeting U.S. energy and climate ambitions. It’s also essential for keeping our allies around the world supplied with energy. We applaud this effort to improve permitting so that we can achieve U.S. climate goals without compromising reliability.”
