NGSA and Center for LNG Welcome the Trump Administration

(Washington, D.C.) – The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) and the Center for LNG (CLNG) released the following joint statement on the inauguration of President Trump yesterday afternoon.

“We congratulate President Trump on his inauguration and wish him success in uniting the country during this exciting time.”

Dena Wiggins, President and CEO of the Natural Gas Supply Association, said:

“Natural gas is a critical source of energy to power our country, support America’s industrial renaissance, reduce emissions, and ensure our allies’ energy security now and into the future. We are excited to see so much interest in our abundant supply of natural gas and regulatory certainty to get more supply to market. We look forward to working with the Trump administration to unlock the many benefits of U.S. natural gas.

Charlie Riedl, Executive Director of the Center for LNG, said:

“U.S. LNG exports are a vital geopolitical tool that help balance trade deficits, grow natural gas production at home, ensure energy security for our allies, and reduce global emissions. U.S. LNG has long been a bipartisan success story, and we are happy to see President Trump’s promise to end the pause has been kept. We will work with the Trump administration to counter the negative impacts of the pause and return to normal order. We look forward to working with the Trump administration to unlock the economic, climate, and geopolitical benefits of U.S. LNG.”

The Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA) represents integrated and independent companies that supply natural gas. Founded in 1965, NGSA is the only national trade association that solely focuses on producer-marketer issues related to the downstream natural gas industry. NGSA advocates for well-functioning markets that foster a growing, competitive market for natural gas. NGSA is dedicated to achieving a cleaner future through strong partnerships with renewables and supporting innovative technologies and market solutions that reduce emissions.

Markets Matter: Representing America’s Major Producers and Suppliers of Natural Gas Since 1965

The Center for Liquefied Natural Gas (CLNG) advocates for public policies that advance the use of liquefied natural gas (LNG) in the United States, and its export internationally. A committee of the Natural Gas Supply Association (NGSA), CLNG represents the full LNG value chain, including all six large-scale LNG export facilities in the United States, shippers, and multinational developers, providing it with unique insight into the ways in which the vast potential of this abundant and versatile fuel can be fully realized.
